

Friends, I'll say
goodbye... For now!

I've noted down everything that we've learnt today. I'm going to run and take these wonderful ideas to the inventors. I'm sure they will use them for their designs and creations.

But before I go, I want to tell you a secret about the shopping bags that I've showed you in the pictures. I got a tip from a little bird this morning, and I'm really excited. Open your ears wide and listen:

These two bags look like they're made of the same material, but is that really the case? Well, the answer is... No!

It turns out that some bags are no longer made of plastic... but from potatoes! Can you believe it? It's a great example of reinventing objects.

And now I really am leaving,
but not for long!

I'll be back soon, with a surprise!

See you the next day, friends!
